The strengths of the course's according to the students

The students were overall satisfied with the course. What has been emphasized in the feedback was the content of the course and the variety of topics. Moreover, the seminars which allow for active participation in the discussions have been greatly appreciated as well as effective teaching methods including group work and guest lectures. A general satisfaction has been expressed with the main teachers in the course as well as with the guest lecturers.

The weaknesses of the course according to the students

Some students mentioned that they had too little time during the exam. There are also proposals of having more guest lecturers. Most comments revolve around the issue of remote teaching. This is understandable. This year, there was exceptionally more teaching conducted remotely due to one teacher visiting another university, but this will not be an issue next year. There have been some comments regarding a need for more reading, this contradicts the comments from previous years were the students reflected on there being too much reading for seminars. This requires reflection and calibration from the teachers' side.
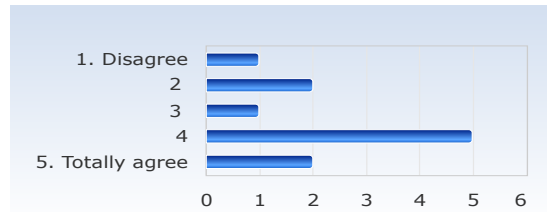

Teachers' comments

We find that this year's structure of topics and combination of lectures and seminars worked really well. The development of the students has been significant during the course. The changes that we foresee for the next year focus on the format and time frame for the exam. As both of the main teachers will be on campus next year, there will be a suitable number of on campus teaching.
