

Requirements of technical support at dissertation

Student:

Date and location:

If the dissertation is to be made available on-line the technical division will provide support during the dissertation. The link to the stream will be included in the public announcement of the defence. Not all rooms support on-line streaming of defences. Make sure that you reserve a room that has.

Note that by decision by the faculty the respondent and the chair of the dissertation are required to be present physically! Furthermore, if either opponent or a member of the grading committee participates via video-link one also has to arrange for these services in the room where the committee will deliberate.

Therefore the supervisor should complete this form and attach it to the form requesting the defence. You should also make sure to contact the technical division at dsa@fysik.su.se at least a week before the defence, in order to go over the arrangements. It is imperative that if there are changes to the arrangements these are communicated to the subject representative, and the technical division as soon as they are known. This service puts constraints on which rooms can be used, and requires scheduling of personnel, therefore late modifications may be very difficult to accommodate!

The dissertation will not be made available on-line
The defence will be transmitted on-line, but the meeting of the committee is local.
The defence will be transmitted on-line and the members of the grading committee and/or the opponent will participate via video-link.
In this case you need to fill in the detailed information on the next page!
