

Stockholms
universitet

Contact person at the department

The study counsellor is usually your contact person at the department where you are studying. When beginning your studies, it is a good idea to introduce yourself and show the certificate you have received regarding the decided/recommended support measures. The counsellor can help you in your studies and answer questions about the department's courses. You can also discuss your choice of study with the counsellor.

At the start of a course

When you start a new course or course unit, please introduce yourself to the teacher and tell him/her what your needs are. The teacher may then want to see the certificate you received from the coordinator in order to be able to take it into consideration when planning the teaching and examinations. Please do not hesitate to ask for help when you need it. If something does not work, you are welcome to contact the coordinator at the Student Support Unit.