General Introduction

The introductory course offers an overview of the international and comparative education field of scholarship. In the course the foundations of theory and methodology that make up the conceptual frame work in the field are explored. The course covers key concepts in international and comparative education. It contains examples of comparative studies that range from large scale quantitative studies of educational achievement to qualitative studies examining education systems globally, nationally and regionally. The course includes skills training in writing in English for academic purposes in the field of international and comparative education.

Course Structure and Content

The course contains compulsory instruction which combines lectures, seminars, and group work to achieve the learning outcomes. The course includes a compulsory presentation of a course paper and the critical examination of one other fellow student s course paper.

Learning Objectives

The course participant shall be able to demonstrate competencies in the theoretical, methodological understanding in the field of international and comparative education, keeping in mind the multiple analytical levels/dimensions concerned in the field.

To pass the course the student should be able to:

- account for conceptual and academic knowledge gained in international and comparative education and in relation to contemporary theories and methodology applied in this field,
- account for knowledge gained about conducting systematic studies of similarities and differences between global educational systems and sub-systems,
- describe and compare the function of various political, socio-cultural and economic contexts on education and curriculum,
- analyse possible implications of globalization for international and comparative education,
- demonstrate knowledge and skills in writing in English for academic purposes in international and comparative education,
- demonstrate foundational knowledge of research methods applied in the field of international and comparative education.

Attendance

Normally, students must attend at least 80% of all compulsory course sessions and students who have been absent more than 40% of the compulsory course sessions have to re-take the course. This will not be followed during this course autumn 2021 due to the recommendations following COVID. As lectures, group work and seminars will be organised in other ways than usually we will not keep record of attendance in the same way as we normally do. Instead it will be compulsory to hand in individual papers related to the group works and seminars.

Examination and Grading

Course participants shall present a course paper that shows her/his knowledge about international and comparative education as specified in the learning objectives. Detailed instructions of the course paper assignment will be given separately on Athena.

Each course participant is expected to present and defend a course paper. Each student should also critically peer review a fellow student's course paper and participate actively in the course examination sessions.

Students who fail the examination, or who do not submit the course paper or do not submit their course paper in time have to complete a re-examination at a later date. Such course participants will be asked to complete a new assignment with a new examination deadline.

Course papers which are not submitted by the deadline will not be assessed.

A student could be given permission to submit a course paper after the deadline for submission if a request with a legitimate reason has been communicated in writing to the course leader before the deadline. The course leader will respond to such requests in writing and accept them when the reasons given for the delay are reasonable.

Course paper deadline

The course paper submission date is October 21, 2021. The paper is submitted in the 'Assignment' folder on Athena. Please save the document as your Surname, First Name.

Second Examination

Students who do not submit a course paper on October 21, 2021, who fail to submit their course paper by the due date, or receive an unsatisfactory mark in the course examination can submit an assignment during the second examination. The second examination will contain a new topic and new task.

Second Examination Dates

Assignment task will be posted on Athena on November 30, 2021. The submission date is December 14, 2021. The paper is submitted in the 'Assignment' folder on Athena under "Second Examination". Please save the document as your Surname, First Name.

Third Examination

Students who do not submit a course paper on October 28, and December 14, who fail to submit their course paper by the due date, or receive an unsatisfactory mark in a course examination can submit an assignment during the third examination. The third examination will contain a new topic and new task.

Third Examination Dates

Assignment task will be posted on Athena on March 8, 2022. The submission date is March 22, 2022. The paper is submitted in the 'Assignment' folder on Athena under "Third Examination". Please save the document as your Surname, First Name.

Plagiarism

It is permissible to cite other sources, but both direct quotes and indirect references to a text must always be provided with correct and complete referencing to the original source. Copying or writing a shorter or longer paragraph and stating yourself as the author of the text is prohibited. This is considered plagiarism. You may also not copy your own texts that have been used in other examinations, as this is considered self-plagiarism.

An example of plagiarism is copying text verbatim or almost verbatim (this includes parts of a text and/or individual sentences) and not indicating where the text originates from. Plagiarism is also when you use another person's text and make it appear that it is your own. For example, text found in the course literature and /or texts that you have found online, or another student's course paper. Plagiarism is regarded as a crime, not only against the established research ethics code, but also against upholding general regard towards one's own and others' texts. Plagiarism is unauthorized cheating and is always subject to disciplinary reporting, which can lead to suspension. At Stockholm University, texts are checked against a database.

Cheating

As a student at Stockholm University, you are responsible for your own education. Part of your responsibility includes knowing the rules that exist for study, examination and being on the university premises, and utilizing resources. According to the rules that apply to the university, disciplinary measures may be taken against students for:

- using unauthorized means, or otherwise attempt to, mislead an exam or when student performance is assessed otherwise;
- interfering with or obstruction teaching, tests or other activities within the framework of education.

Disciplinary matters are dealt with by the Stockholm University Disciplinary Board. The penalty may be a warning or suspension for a period of 1-6 months. Information on Stockholm University rules for examination and disciplinary cases can be found on Stockholm University's website www.su.se/regulations. Teachers are required to report a suspected suspicion of cheating to the director of studies.

Grading Criteria

Grading Scale
A.	The exam paper demonstrates that all the learning outcomes of the course have been fulfilled in an excellent way. The student shows an excellent ability to describe, analyse and discuss the content of the course in an independent and reflective way. The text contains several references to the course literature and to other relevant texts that are well chosen to fit the context. The text is well structured, without any formal mistakes and with a language that signifies clarity and an effort to elaborate the text. The text should not be shorter or longer than the range prescribed in the course assignment. An exam paper that is shorter or longer than the prescribed range will be affected in the grading.
B.	The exam paper demonstrates that all the learning outcomes of the course have been fulfilled in a very good way. The student shows a very good ability to describe, analyse and discuss the content of the course in an independent and reflective way. The text contains several references to the course literature and to other relevant texts that are well chosen to fit the context. The text is well structured, without formal mistakes and with a language use that signifies clarity and an effort to elaborate the text. An exam paper that is shorter or longer than the prescribed range will be affected in the grading.
C.	The exam paper demonstrates that all the learning outcomes of the course have been fulfilled in a good way. The student shows good ability to describe, analyse and discuss the content of the course without major shortcomings. The text refers in a relevant way to the course literature and to other appropriate texts. The text is well structured, without any major formal mistakes and with a good language use. An exam paper that is shorter or longer than the prescribed range will be affected in the grading.
D.	The exam paper demonstrates that all the learning outcomes of the course have been fulfilled in a satisfactory way. The student shows that he/she has achieved knowledge and understanding of the course content and ability to discuss this in an independent way. The text refers to the course literature. The text is structured in a satisfactory way, without any major formal mistakes and in an acceptable language. An exam paper that is shorter or longer than the prescribed range will be affected in the grading.
E.	The exam paper demonstrates that the learning outcomes of the course have been fulfilled in a sufficient way. The student shows that he/she has achieved an acceptable knowledge and understanding of the course content, but with a limited ability to discuss this in an independent way. The text connects to the course literature. The text is structured in an acceptable way, without any serious formal mistakes and in an acceptable language. An exam paper that is shorter or longer than the prescribed range will be affected in the grading.

Fx.	The exam paper demonstrates that the required learning outcomes have not been fulfilled. Possible shortcomings could be: that the course literature is not covered in a sufficient way, analyses and discussions in the text are not convincing, the text is too close to the course literature, there is no link between own observations and the course literature / the content of the course, the text is difficult to understand due to inadequate language use, the disposition of the text makes it difficult to follow the text, references are incorrect or missing and/or the paper is much shorter or much longer than the prescribed length. A revision of the paper is needed.
F.	The exam paper demonstrates that the required learning outcomes have not been fulfilled. Possible shortcomings could be those mentioned under F(x), but are so serious that they cannot be amended by a revision of the text. The course participant has to do a new course assignment that will be given by the course leader.

Course Evaluation

The course is evaluated through an online survey which will be made available at the end of the course.

Course Literature

The current course literature is made available on the course page no later than two months before the course begins.

Support during your studies

At Stockholm University, it is possible to receive extra support in addition to regular teaching.

Academic Writing Service

The Academic Writing Service provides English-language support for writing and study skills. They give talks and seminars and offer individual guidance. Their services are available free of charge to all students at Stockholm University. For more information visit: <https://www.su.se/english/education/student-support/academic-writing-service>

Studying with a disability

If you have a documented disability, e.g. dyslexia, you have the opportunity to receive special pedagogical support. Examples of support initiatives may be note-taking, audio books, extended exam time or sign language interpretation. You must apply for special pedagogical support from Student Support Office at Stockholm University

<https://www.su.se/english/education/student-support/studying-with-a-disability>

Once the application has been received, a coordinator will contact you to arrange a personal meeting. After speaking to the coordinator, you will receive a certificate describing types of support to be offered to you.

It is the responsibility of the student to contact the student counselors at the Department of Education before a course begins in order to arrange for support. Their email address is studievagledare@edu.su.se. The student counselors will then contact the course leaders with regards to the type of support the student will need.
