

On the Occasion of 40 Years of Organized Bilingualism
Research at Stockholm University (1981–2021):

Recent Developments in Bilingualism and Multilingualism Research

A one-day symposium

17 June 2022

Reinholdsalen, Juristernas Hus, Campus Frescati
(on the hill behind Restaurant PicNic, T-Universitetet)

Registration: marta.quevedo@biling.su.se
(registration is free!)

More information at: biling.su.se

Program

08.45–09.00 Registration

09.00–09.15 Introduction

NICLAS ABRAHAMSSON (CENTRE DIRECTOR)

09.15–09.45 Is Stockholm's Multiethnic Argot More "Multi" than Ever? A Longitudinal Analysis of Foreign Lexical Material from 1994 to 2020

NATHAN YOUNG

09.45–10.15 Understanding Speech Perception: Modeling Adaptation to Foreign Accents

MARYANN TAN

10.15–10.45 Causal Intentionality in Monolingual and Bilingual Witness Memory

MARTA QUEVEDO RODRIGUEZ

10.45–11.15 Coffee and poster exhibition

11.15–11.45 Does Bilingualism Really Come with Cognitive Advantages and Linguistic Costs?

NICLAS ABRAHAMSSON

11.45–12.15 L1 Retention and L2 Acquisition in International Adoptees

GUNNAR NORRMAN

12.15–12.45 Ethnographic Explorations of Language in a Contested Crimea

NATALIA VOLVACH

12.45–13.45 Lunch break

13.45–15.15 Panel discussion: Making Bi/Multilingualism Research Matter

Introduction and moderator: LINUS SALÖ

Panelists: KENNETH HYLSTENSTAM, CARLA JONSSON, TOMMASO MILANI, NATALIA GANUZA, DAVID KARLANDER & SUSAN SAYEHLI

15.15–15.45 Coffee and poster exhibition

15.45–16.15 A Multilingual Approach to Internationalisation in Swedish University Life

LUKE HOLMES

16.15–16.45 A WEIRD Bias in SLA Research? A Bibliometric Approach

EMANUEL BYLUND

16.45–17.15 Towards Epistemic Justice: Language, Identity, and Relations of Knowing in Multilingual Schools

CAROLINE KERFOOT

17.15 Post-symposium mingle

The symposium was made possible by grants from
The Swedish Academy and the Board of Human Science,
Stockholm University.

Poster exhibition

The Social and Stylistic Variation of Rhythm in Stockholm Swedish

NATHAN YOUNG

Is Bilingualism Associated with a Lexical Deficit? A Meta-Analytic Study

GUNNAR NORRMAN, NICLAS ABRAHAMSSON & EMANUEL BYLUND

New Horizons in the Study of Multilingualism and Thought

EMANUEL BYLUND

Language Aptitude and Language Awareness: Polyglot Perspectives

KENNETH HYLSTENSTAM

Translanguaging and Translations in Workplace Meetings

CARLA JONSSON

Using Event-Related Potentials (ERPs) to Examine Predictive Processing

JOSÉ ALEMÁN BAÑÓN

The Development of a Grammar-for-Interaction in L2 French: A Longitudinal Study of tu vois ('you see')

KLARA SKOGMYR MARIAN

The Role of Explicit Knowledge in Written L2 Production

GORAN MALJAN

Tracing Productivity and Creativity in L2 Compound Production

TATIANA ANTONCHIK

The Impact of Stress on Host Language Acquisition by Immigrant Children

SUSAN SAYEHLI

Reconsidering the 'Gold Standard' for Nativelikeness in L2 ERP Studies

DOMINIK FREUNBERGER, EMANUEL BYLUND & NICLAS ABRAHAMSSON

Is Language Aptitude Immune to Experience? Divergent Evidence from Bilingualism vs. Blindness

NICLAS ABRAHAMSSON & HELENA SMEDS

Study Guidance in the Mother Tongue (SGMT): A Study of SGMT Tutors' and Teachers' Collaboration

JOSEFINA ELIASO MAGNUSSON

Manufacturing Multilingualisms of Marginality in Mozambique – the Linguistic Battle against COVID-19

MANUEL GUISSIMO

How Did English /w/ Become a Marginal Phoneme in Swedish?

MEMET AKTÜRK DRAKE

Ideological Tensions in Swedish Mother Tongue Provision: Progressive Inclusivity or Essentialist Laurel-Resting?

SCARLETT MANNISH

The symposium was made possible by grants from
The Swedish Academy and the Board of Human Science,
Stockholm University.

