The Bolin Centre is a multi-disciplinary consortium of over 350 scientists in Sweden that conducts research and graduate education related to the Earth's climate.

Bolin Days - registration now open

Welcome to the Bolin Days November 20–21 2019!

We offer an interesting scientific program and fun social events. If you are a researcher interested in climate sciences, you are welcome to join us, whether you are a member of the centre or not. Full program is found HERE». If you would like to join the centre or get more information, please visit Join the Bolin Centre.

Time & place: November 20–21, Nordenskiöld hall, Geoscience Building

Please register: HERE»

Last day to register is the 13th of November

News from Research Area 8, RA8

The fourth annual RA8-workshop will be held at Tovetorp February 4-5, 2020. Please reserve these dates in your calendar.

More information will follow, but we plan for a meeting with presentations by invited external speakers, presentations of ongoing research by members, with plenty of time for feedback and discussions.

New communication project

Eva Gylfe, coordinator and communicator at the Bolin Centre, has received a scholarship from the Hasselblad Foundation. Thanks to this, she will start a new communication project this spring in collaboration with the Bolin Centre, the Swedish Environmental Protection Agency and the House of Science. The project will produce interactive research briefs that communicate environmental and climate research to the public and specifically to schools.

All Bolin Centre scientists are invited to contact Eva.Gylfe@su.se if you would like her to include your research in the project. Feel free to contact Eva if you have any questions!
