

Registration number: SU-305-0030-22	Date: Dec 21, 2022	Page 1 (1)
Document name: Environmental plan, Department of Economics, 2023
Issued by: Rikard Forslid
Approved by: Sten Nyberg, Head of Department, approved by the department board

Area	Goal	Activity	Person(s) responsible	Means	Indicator (if possible)	End date
Consumption / goods	Keep the low use of A4 paper.  Save office space.	Routines for faster solutions with Printomat errors to avoid the use of other printers.  Control that the Printomats are working.  Transition to digital archive (Athena) to save paper and office space.	Rikard Forslid, Tor Svensson	Agreement with IT-media	A4 paper used per employee and per full time student (from IVS): 2019: 167140 2020: 116478 2021: 86200 2022:	December 31, 2023
Use of electricity	The use of electricity should not increase per employee and per full time student.	Make sure that no new installations use too much electricity.  Control of the use of electricity per employee and per full time student during the year.	Rikard Forslid	.	Use of electricity per employee and per full time student during the year, if possible.	December 31, 2023  Or later
Environment and sustainability in teaching	Integrate aspects of environment in teaching to a higher degree.	Make sure that aspects of environment are part of courses in economics.  Check the content of environmental aspects in the courses at the department.	Rikard Forslid Adam Jacobsson		Number of courses with content related to environment and sustainability.	December 31, 2023  Or later
Digital meetings and seminars	Promote the technical prerequisites for digital meetings and seminars.	Check that the rooms for digital meetings work.	Adam Jacobsson			December 31, 2023
Flight travel	Cut down travel by flight to conferences (compared to 2019)	Communicate Stockholm University's new travel policy. Follow up on business travel from an environmental perspective.	Sten Nyberg  Rikard Forslid		The total CO2 emission from the department's flight travels.	December 31, 2023

All follow up will be accounted for to the department board after the end of the year.