How to get to Aula Magna at Stockholm University.

Aula Magna is located in Stockholm's University area (Frescati) and it takes about 15 minutes to get there with public transportation from Stockholm's central areas. Aula Magna is located about 5 minutes walk from the metro exit, the bus stop and the local train Roslagsbanan.

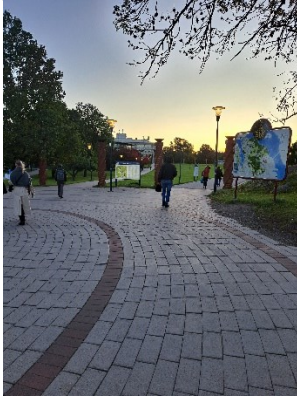

You can open the link below and click ‘directions’ when you exit the metro. Or just follow the simple instructions that follow below.

This is the short walk on the map.

From the metro exit, up the stone stairs straight forward, and then you take the path to the right just next to the street lamp in the photo.

Keep walking and you will have a fast food restaurant to your right.

Keep walking through the wonderful chestnut tree portal.

When you are on the other side of the portal you will see the stairs that lead up to Aula Magna on your right hand side. (If there is a witch there offering you Turkish Delight if you go with her, do not accept the offer!)
